

Belgian Loafer Care Instructions

To protect the needlepoint, you can treat it with a Scotch Guard type product. Follow the application instructions and be careful to only treat the cotton thread as these products can damage our leather.

If the needlepoint becomes dirty, use a clean damp cloth with a small amount of soap to clean.

We recommend wooden (not plastic) shoe trees to keep the shape of the shoes intact.